Washington, April 21.-Officially the tariff bill was before the senate or today, but it received such scant attention that republican leaders finally acquiesced in a request of the democrats that further consideration of it be deferred un il Monday. By that time the minority expects to be ready to proceed with the general discus-

When the bill was called up today by Chairman McCumber, of the finance committee, Senator King, democrat, Utah, took the floor and, after a reference to the tariff, launched into a nearly four hours' discussion of the Mexican situation. After his address, Senator Harrison, democrat, list of conferees to be announced by eral presentments committee of the Home First of All Mississippi, had the senate clerk read Mississippi, had the senate cierk read the house for final adjustment of the grand jury, had declined to let the a lengthy newspaper account of a federal judiciary bill, already passed judge see a draft of the presentments speech by Senator Moses, republican, by both branches of congress, it is in advance of their formal reading in New Hampshire, in which the agricultural bloc and many other things ditional judge given Georgia by the

Recognition of War Debts by Soviet Regime Goes Long Way to Dispel

GERMANS ALSO AGREE TO ALLIED DEMANDS

It Is Now Believed That Tchitcherin Will Win Recognition-U. S. Precedents Cited by Russ.

BY RALPH H. TURNER.

United News Staff Correspondent Genoa, April 21 .- Justifying Lloyd George's optimism, the Genoa conference now appears to have taken the most favorable turn since it opened nearly two weeks ago. The German and Russian replies to allied protests on the Rapallo treaty have lifted the tension encouragingly. and it is generally felt that the conciliatory tone of the German note, with its willing acceptance of the allied demand that Germany withdraw from the Russian discussion-although the note was revised a dozen times in order to tone down its original firm ness-is admittedly hopeful. Germany at least will not obstruct the future deliberations of the conference, the allies feel. For the present they are inclined to overlook the German smugness in the realization that Germany still clings to the Russian treaty, whatever the character of their formal reply to the allies. The latest note is also generously accepted as an effort by Germany to save its faceespecial'y in that part where Germany says she will only take part in deliberations in case her collaboration is especially asked." Russ Concessions The Russian situation is also con sideraby cleared up. Russia first recognizes her war debts, conditioned on the allies reducing the amount partially by remitting some of the interest which has accumulated, and granting a moratorium Secondly, Russia recognizes her pre-war debts provided the allies grant her de jure recognificult to settle. George Encouraged.

Lloyd George, it was clear, felt considerably encouraged over the outlook. It is believed that he is now more determined than ever to press for negotiation of a non-aggression pact among the European nations. There was a marked change in the atmosphere with the receipt of the notes from the eastern powers. There is no disputing the fact that for a few days the conference had a bad case of nerves which might have caused unfortunate developments had the least untoward incident occurred to set off the explosion. But the delegates have taken a new grip on the situation and for the present at least hope are high.

Once Again Mary Turns Up Missing On Wedding Eve

Paris, April 21 .- Contrary Mary Baker the many times missing bride-to-be of Allister McCormick, young Chicago millionaire, has disappeared again. Her friends say they do not know where she has gone and young McCormick is in Paris, whither be came from England to meet her after the postponement at the very altar of their wedding which was to have been held in Chicago. McCormick ap-parently is waiting for his fiancee to return to Paris as it would appear that he has not yet seen her since her arrival in France aboard the Aquitania early in the week.

It was believed for a time that Miss Baker went to Neufchatel with the Viscountess Janze, but reports from the Janze Chateau quoting the younger viscounts as that she charged younger viscount say that she changed her mind again perhaps and went to some other rural place. The viscount did not actually know where she had gone but described Miss Baker as be on her way to London or Paris Later information was received at the viscount's Paris residence saying that Miss Baker had appeared at Beauvais early Friday afternoon with the viscounts and was reluctant to return to Paris because newspaper reorters would pursue her.

Spring Find You Tired, Achy, All Worn Out?

Then Look to Your Kidneys! This Is a Common Condition in April and Is Often Due to Weakened Kidneys.

miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stifflag through the day feeling tired, weak, nervous and depressed? Isn't it time, then, you found out why you are so rundown-why you are so unable to enjoy the first fine days of spring?

There is some good reason for your condition and more than likely it's weakened kidneys. Winter, you know, is mighty hard on the kidneys. Colds and chills, a heavier diet with less exercise, and less elimination through the skin, all throw a heavy burden on the Ask your neighbor!

OES early Spring find you utterly kidneys. The kidneys fall behind and poisons accumulate.

> It's little wonder, then, that spring finds you with torturing backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities.

> But don't be discouraged! Simply realize that your kidneys have fallen behind and give them the help they need. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, lighten the diet a bit, drink water freely and get plenty of outdoor exercise. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you.

"Use Doan's," Say These Atlanta Folks:

J. D. MARBUT, 339 Simpson street, says:
"Kidney trouble came upon me during the time I was doing a lot of night work, which I believe was the cause of it all. I was in bad shape with back trouble. When I got down I could hardly get up again. There were also times when I could hardly get about, and I would have dizzy spells. My kidneys were too free in action, forcing me to get up during the night. I got Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them they straightened me up in A-1 shape."

MRS. J. H. HUNTER, 386 Cooper street, says: "My back hurt so I didn't know what to do and kidney trouble came on from overwork. I suffered with deep pains across my kidneys, which never seemed to let up. After doing a day's work I was all tired out and had no ambition. Tiny specks quivered before my eyes and made me dizzy and my kidneys were inactive. I saw the testimony of one who had been benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills in the newspaper. Two boxes of Doan's rid me of kidney trouble."

The coday, to protest against making the Dixle highway from Hawkinsville to Waycross via Fitzgerald a secondary road, under state supervision, Chairman John N. Holder and Engineer W. R. Neel, of the state highway department, gave assurances that this important road will be placed on the system as a primary road and system the federal aid in its construction.

Shoals for Henry Ford mass meeting, to be held here to-morrow, will draw hundreds of enthusiastic supporters of the plan from all over Georgia and Macon is prepared to give the visitors an enthusiastic welcome.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Fitzgerald Chamber of Commerce and presided over by its president, J. H. Mays. Vice President J. E. Turner delivered a message of welcome to the more than three hundred delegates from nine counties on the route and was followed by Mr. Holder, who told of the work of his department and progress being made in the upbuilding of Georgia's roads.

In reference to the status of the Courai Dixie highway, in its relation to the general plan of the department, Mr. Holder assured the association that the route blazed original.

partment, Mr. Holder assured the association that the route blazed originally as the Dixie highway via Hawkinsville, Fitzgerald, Douglas and Waycross will be maintained and designated as a primary road, the direct road from Chattanooga to Jacksonville.

Chief Engineer Neel gave some data as to the mileage of the state roads to be constructed with federal aid and through state and county funds. Mr. Neel stated that he has recommended to the federal department of roads the adoption as a primary road that part of the Dixie highway running from Hawkinsville via Douglas and Alma to Waycross and St. Marys river, and that every effort will be made to have it approved. made to have it approved.

RUSS FAMINE FADES BEFORE U.S. RELIEF

Samara, Russia, April 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Famine is begin-Associated Press.)—Famine is beginning to retreat in the Volga vailey before the slow but steady arrival of American corn for adult feeding. It is due to vanish almost entirely when the spring sunshine uncovers the black earth of this fertile region and brings out the early grasses and vegetation which, added to the rations supplied by the United States, other foreign covernments and the Russian foreign governments and the Russian government, will sustain most of the population until the rye and wheat harvest of late August and early September.
The retreat is slow, however, and the death rate from hunger is still mounting in the villages, far from centers of rail communication, which have not yet been reached and may never be reached by American and other foreign aid.

Life Still Gamble, Today, the beginning of the last month when wheat may be sown, it still is a gamble whether a majority still is a gamble whether a majority of the peasants will receive any appreciable supply of wheat for spring planting. The railways through the heart of the Samara and Drenburg districts have been blocked by equinoxial blizzards at the time when the Moscow government was straining all efforts to bring seed from the ports to the peasants.

This great seed offer has been a dramatic battle against weather and it has dealt heavy blows. The spring thaw is following and it now appears in many districts the roads will be impassable when the grain finally does arrive at the stations about which now are gathered horses, camels and the oxen by the hundreds, waiting sleighs to take the precious seed to the villages. If it arrives in the midst of the thaw, only a part of it will reach the farms in time to sow it.

Depend on Rye.

Pending success of the wheat seeding, the rye which was sown last autumn is expected to supply the population with enough food on which to exist after the middle of August. If the wheat campaign succeeds to any appreciable extent, the optimistic predictions of provincial officials at Samara, the province, though producing only 25 to 40 per cent of the normal pre-war yield, will have plenty of food for its own inhabitants and some for trading or export.

This, however, is problematical. This, however, is problematical. But in every village of the province visited by the correspondent during 1 fortnight's trip, the peasants were reactically unanimous in their opinion that, unless another drought ensues, the Volca region can feed itself, without further American or other side. out further American or other aid, after the middle of August.

ALBANY FORMER POLICE CHIEF DIES

Financial Props Of G. O. P. Balk At Bonus Plans BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. Lively no bonus of any kind. They look no more kindly upon a bonus provided by deferred payments under some certificate plan which would merely postpone the day of judgment than they do of a bonus bill providing no revenue at all. Some might swallow a bonus financed by a sales tax, because business interests here favor the sales tax and believe that the cost of the bonus would be repaid by the benefits of such a new source of government revenue. HIGHWAY WINS At Bonus Plans

New York, April 21.-Influential epublican leaders here, who have been called upon by Chairman Adams, of the national committee, to contrib-ute and solicit funds for wiping out the tremendous committee deficit, have replied:

1. That if the republican congress 1. That it the republican congress a soldier bonus bill they won't contribute or solicit a cent toward wiping out the deficit.
2. That if congress passes the bonus bill, it may get some soldiers' yotes for the respective candidates but it will lose the support of business.

ness.

Thus the bonus is inevitably drawn into the forthcoming campaign both directly and indirectly—directly in that business leaders in New York and in other states already are call-ing attention of the public to those candidates who are for the bonus; and indirectly because, without funds. the national committee will be un-able to assist in financing the campaigns of republicans in hotly con-tested districts.

On Bonus Rocks. Chairman Adams was brought directly into touch with the feelings of republican leaders of wealth while here a few days ago for a meeting to discuss means of raising money to wipe out the republican national committee deficit, estimated at around $2,000,000.

At a luncheon given by Adams for these men the republican chairman asked each in turn regarding sums that could be raised in given sections. Immediately he ran onto the political rocks of the bonus issue. Business men, generally, he was told were opposed to it.

And from those upon whom he was counting for particularly substantial relief he was given the flat rejoinder:

"We can help if congress doesn't do anything more to make it impos-do anything more to make it impossible. We can't and won't help if congress passes the bonus."

So there it was left. There was

So there it was left. There was a remarkable demonstration, it is said, cf solidarity on this viewpoint among those present. Adams was left to take back the tidings to congressional and senatorial leaders in Washington. And while New York leaders of means would be expected to contribute most heavily in wiping out the deficit, it is said by leaders here that business men throughout the country business men throughout the country are taking a similar view. The na-tional committee needs money and needs lots of it. The situation, therefore, seems to be this: Clear Issue.

No bonus, plenty of money with ample support in forthcoming cam-paigns. A bonus, no money, no campaign support.

And by "no bonus" financial lead- von read this advertisement ne benefits of such a new source of government revenue.

Republican leaders, therefore, are in a position of playing the national committee deficit against the bonus bill and what some members of congress believe may prove a deciding political factor in the coming campaign—the soldiers' vote.

Democrats Move to the family burying ground at Greenville, Ga., where the soldier will find his final resting place. For Organization SCOTT NOT TO TOUCH Of Women Voters

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON. Constitution Bureau. Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, April 21 .- (By Constitution Leased Wire.)-Steps toward a nationwide organization, differentiated into state and local clubs, of the democratic women voters of America, were initiated today by the national demo-cratic committee. The organization work will be directly under the women's division of the committee organization, and Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, of Missouri, national committeewoman from that state, has arrived in Wash ington to superintendent the same. The first move was made today when Mrs. Blair and a staff of assistants opened headquarters in Baltimore for conferences of the several hundred democratic women delegates who may attend the pan-American and National League of Women Voters' convention in that city the coming week.

Mrs. Blair has planned a series of afternoon teas at the Rennert, at which democratic women leaders from which democratic women leaders from various parts of the country will be invited to speak and tell of the prog-ress of the party organizations. Her aim is to organize the women of the democratic party throughout the coun-try into small clubs, not too large to be unwieldly, but large enough to stir the women to political activity. Many of the national committeewomen of the democratic party in the country are members of the National League of Women Voters, a "nonpartisan and all partisan" organization. Mrs. Wilson to Speak. A majority of the 48 national representatives from the states are ex-pected to be in Baltimore during the coming week. Mrs. Blair felt that this gathering of women from all over that the country was too good an oppor-tunity to lose, and has arranged an all-day conference of democratic naall-day conference of democratic national committeewomen to be held in Washington next Saturday.

For the first time since former President Woodrow Wilson left the white house, his wife, Mrs. Wilson, will make a "political speech." She will be one of the central figures at the conference next week, and it is significant that Mrs. Wilson has been asked to participate in this national conference.

Object to Rule. One of the most important considerations before the National League of Women Voters is that of the "extent of party activities of the league as an organization." From the start as an organization." From the start its policy has been to urge its members to enter party work and participate actively in "party politics." At present, however, regional or state directors are prohibited from holding any prominent "party job" at the same time with their league job.

As a result of this rule, Mrs. C. B. Simmons, of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. James Paige, of Minneapolis, who are members of their state legislatures, have been forced to resign their offices in the League of Women Voters. Many of the league of voters leaders argue that this rule is unfair, and that such a prohibition tends to discourage party work on the part of courage party work on the part of the members. This question will be discussed next week at the convention

Sues for Damages, As Barber Shaves Away Mustache

San Francisco, April 21,—Injured pride at the loss of a prized mustache "not less than three inches in width and six inches from tip to tip" removed from the plaintiff while he was asleep under a hot towel in a barber shop, had found outlet today in a suit for $299.09 damages filed in San Francisco justice court. The suit was brought by James T. Maguire of Bakersfield Golf and Country club, against Henry Jacoby, barber.

Maguire was said to have stopped in a San Francisco barber shop while en route to a golf tournament at Byron Hot Springs, seated himself in a chair and fell asleep to awake to discover his loss.

The complainant set forth:

"That as a result of the said mustache having been wilfully and maliciously shorn from the face of said plaintiff, said plaintiff has materially decreased in his personal appearance before the public; his younger children are not able to recognize him and the plaintiff has extreme difficulty being recognized at banks, garages, golf clubs and other places where plaintiff has business."

Returns from the systematic solici-tation of the teams canvassing the business district and receipts from Atlanta business concerns continued to reach headquarters of the appeal in gratifying proportions Friday, Judge McClelland announces. Support from Atlanta women is also en-couraging, according to Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, who urges that all givers make their subscriptions as early as possible.

The force of Atlantans backing the appeal will meet Monday afternoon at a luncheon called for 12:45 at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, when complete returns up to date will be reported. Among the organizations that have contributed teams of workers are the Elks club, the Masonic club, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Civitan and Ad. Among other things are the first cost, maintenance, insurance and sepreciation of the building as a whole.

These are, of course, primarily points for architects and engineers to consider, but it might be worth while to bring it to public attention so that public opinion will support the expenditures as outlined by those in charge of constructing our public school buildings.

BANKS AND SWINE.

A south Georgia farmer recently wrote to the president of one of the leading banks of his county asking him to definitely and clearly state his position with reference to lending money to farmers with which to enable the borrowers to establish herds of pure-bred hogs on their farms.

The banker replied in a way that proves him to be not only a trustworthy and sound business man, but one having vision, pride in his community and a keen insight into its needs; and who is willing to contribute his full and rightful share toward its development.

Here, in substance, is his letter to his farmer-correspondent:

"My bank stands ready to assist any worthy person in this county to start a herd of pure-bred swine, and will cheerfully lend them the money, and I think that this reflects he attitude of all of the bankers of this county.

"We all know that prosperity among the farmers means prosper ity among us folks in town-bankers and business men; and the bankers of this county are right behind the Georgia Swine Growers association in spreading the gospel of pure-bred hogs. "The Country Bankers' association has recently organized for this very purpose and you will find that policy of practically every bank in Georgia. "If I can be of any further service to you, please command me. Here is a banker who has the obligations to his communityand to the real producers of its wealth and the mainstays of its prosperity-who are the farmers.

He sees the necessity of cooperation between town and country; between capital and industry; between bank and farmer. And he is willing to go at least half the way in bringing it about. As for the information he gives.

it is, indeed, a hopeful sign when the bankers take such action as those of his county have taken to assist the farmers in grading up their herds and to "spread the gospel of pure-bred hogs."

Here is an example well worth emulation by the bankers of every county in Georgia.

But progress has taken away the carefree independence of the pioneer. It has sold his crop for him before it is harvested; it has made his labor a struggle to satisfy debt rather than to build a compe- With: tence for himself.

It was different with the pioneer of wiregrass Georgia. Let John L. Herring, of The Tifton Gazette, tell you about it. In his fascinating book, Saturday Night Sketches, he remarks-

Even the story that a bootlegger preferred a jail sentence to drinking the stuff he sold won't convince the credulous thirsty ones.

You'll realize a real drop in the cost of living when you get the spring garden going right.

April merely "chunked" the fire to give May a house-warming.

Lloyd George admits that the hardest job he ever tackled is trying to run this old world.

The Philadelphia Record speaks of "The poor relations at Genoa." And, as a rule, they're the hungriest, and therefore the most demanding.

Another good spring motto is: The profitable way to follow the furrow is not to dream about the shady tree at the end.

Talking of signs of spring, nothing can beat that of the man with the garden hoe, and the perspiring picture of the manager of the lawnmower.

Still, radio broadcasting won't keep Mr. Bryan from running around the country like a ringworm.

Congress Rushes Resolution Through in One Hour, to Meet Emergency on Mississippi.

Washington, April 21 .- The sum of one million dollars for control of flood waters of the Mississippi river, now at the highest stage in years, was olution cushed through the senate and house today within an hour after the proposal made by southern members had been approved by Secretary Weeks and Director Dawes of the budget.

In presenting the resolution, Chairman Madden, of the appropriations committee, explained that nearly $7,000,000 was carried in the pending army bill to be handled by the Mississippi river commission under the flood control. This fund would not be available until after July 1, but Mr. Madden declared an emergency existed and that without immediate help there was danger of tremendous loss of life and property damage, for loss of life and property damage, for otherwise the flood waters might overrun the levee and extend to the Frenchmen, is debatable.

This is made all the more doubtful by the granifications which the Russian and the same second to the sa by the qualifications which the Russians attached to their proposal. It was remarked that they insisted upon a scaling down of the war debt by recognition of the allies of counter-claims to be presented by Russia. The further intimation that the allies could not expect to collect anything from Russia until her economic re-storation was well along is expected taken by the soviets in their reply to make a compromise possible.

But there are still the questions of de jute recognition and the creation of an allied financial commission for Russia, which are bound to provoke warm discussion. The debt question is more easily handled, because it involves largely cold, financial calculation. But once the question of de jure recognition and the control of Russia's finances through an allied commission are brought up, national pride and all the other emotions that make for trouble will come to the surface.

The text of the Russian reply in part is as follows:

"Subject to the above conditions, the Russian government would be ready to restore to former owners property nationalized or reserved. This is subject to the reservation that in the event of that not being pos-sible, satisfaction shall be given legit mate claims of former owners either through mutual agreement arrived at directly between both parties or by virtue of arrangements to be worked out at the present conference. "Financial assistance from foreign sources is absolutely vital for the eco-nomic reconstruction of Russia and so long as there is no prospect of reconstruction forthcoming, the Russian delegation does not see its way clear to saddling the country with debts of which it would not be able to acquit itself. promised have not been complied with by the African republic.

On September 9, 1918, just two months before the armistice was sign-ed, President Wilson set aside a cred-it of five millions of dollars for Li-beria under the provision of the Lib-erty loan act authorizing the presi-dent to extend credits to our allies who were contributing to our national security and defense and the prosecuwho were contributing to our national security and defense and the prosecution of the war against Germany. When this credit was made, it was made under certain conditions to be agreed to by Liberia, before the fund should be available; but the Liberian government never consented to these terms, so the contract for the loan was never consummated. Negotiations were continued, and when President Harding came into office, he ident Harding came into office, he had a commission to come from Liberia, headed by the president of that country, and he continued negotiations with them for the purpose of making them a loan of five millions of dallars.

Under date of October 28, 1921. Under date of October 28, 1921, practically three years after the war, the state department entered into an agreement with Liberia to loan them five millions of dollars for certain purposes set out in the contract, and the Liberian government, acting through its legal authorities, agreed to the terms; but the United States, to the terms; but the United States, through its proper authorities, has never agreed to them. Secretary of State Hughes and President Harding, for some months, have been urging congress to pass a law approving this contract and authorizing the loan of five millions of dollars to Liberia, they contending that the government was morally obligated to make this loan. The committee on ways and means has been considering this measure for several weeks, and Congressman Crisp, of Georgia, has been leading the fight against the loan, and the committee on several occaand the committee on several occasions, by a vote, refused to recommend the loan. Day before yesterday, at the request of Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee, Secretary Hughes appeared before the committee and made a speech the committee and made a speech advocating this loan and earnestly unging the committee to authorize it. After this speech, the committee in executive session, by a vote of 15 to 10, recommended the loan. Every democrat on the committee and two republicans voted against it. Mr. Crisp was requested by the democratic members of the committee to prepare a minority report objecting to the loan, and he is now preparing

LEAGUE CONFERENCE ENDS TODAY WITH ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Delegates Spend Friday In Business and Pleasure

BY LOUISE DOOLY.

A day of variety and enjoyment in hospitality, and inspiration in business session, was completed on Friday by the national convention of Junior leagues, of which the Atlanta league is the hostess organization, and this unusual, capable and most attractive assemblage of young women from every section of the United States will enter this morning upon the last day of their first southern meeting. The election of officers and the selection of the next meeting place will mark the Saturday morning session, which will be held at the Woman's club auditorium.

Outstanding grants of the description of the County Harmon Stringfellow, Mrs. Ewell Gay, Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mrs. Winship Nunnally and Mrs. Walter Colquitt.

outstanding events of the day were the business sessions, morning and afternoon, at East Lake Country club, with an elaborate luncheon at the club, a tea and garden party at "Pine Bloom," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright; small dinners given by the Atlanta I. stesses, most of them at their homes, and finally a supper-dance at the Piedmont Driving club.

AT DRIVING CLUB.

Mrs. Hunter Muse was chairman of the committee having in charge the dancing party last night at the Piedmont Driving club, and this proved one of the happiest incidents proved one of the convention. The reception room and palm garden had basis of artistic decoration in foliage plants, and spring flowers in all their color and variety were massed against the green.

Business Discussion.

The morning session, at which Mrs. William Olmstead, of New York, presided, was given over to general discussion of subjects of interest to all the leagues, not with the idea of legislation, but of affording the delegates opportunity of comparing notes as to methods of handling systems of work and solving common problems.

Of most importance was the point system initiated by Poughkeepsis several years ago, which is also being adopted by other leaf ss. This is intended to divide league work with a fair degree of impartiality among all the members and to keep a record of the work, so that the burden may not fall too heavily on a few and leave others without enough league interest to keep them active members. Hours of work, it developed, instead of points are used as a method of reckoning by some of the leagues, and others rely on the honor system.

It is the policy of the national organization to confine its legislation as far as possible to matters of national concern and to leave entirely to the ganization to confine its legislation as far as possible to matters of national concern and to leave entirely to the individual leagues any matters that concern the individual league alone, and so the discussion was informative rather than legislative.

How to interest the younger members just coming into the leagues and how to keep them interested was another important matter, and the consensus of opinion, and custom was that

Whether professional women who are members of the league should be required in those leagues which have soldigatory hours of service to give the same amount of personal work also gave rise to much difference of opinion, but the individual league decides whether she shall give the same service, be considered an associate member and pay larger dues, or whether it shall be counted that her experience as a professional woman is of such value in an advisory or executive capacity to the board league that she should not be expected to meet the usual requirements. It was brought out that the large number of young women going into business or the professions temporarily or personal women who are member and point ments was a cover made of old laces—Venetian rose point, Venetian flat point and point de Bruges prevailing in their deep ivory tones.

AT WOMAN'S WINDOW BY W. L. GEORGE

Would you like to be a child again? Honestly, without any false sentimentality? To be put to bed when you don't want to go? To be forbidden to eat just the things you enjoy? I confess that I should not care for it; indeed I should like to frame a children's charter of rights for boys and girls, and to make every parent sign it. In article one of my charter, I should say: "Make your children's acquaintance." That sounds easy, but in practice it is not; for children have then private affairs into which they fear to admit the grown-ups. This be cause we do not treat their confidence seriously and sometimes use them against the confiders.

One should never receive a child's opinion with laughter. A wellbehaved person does not deride the views of a grown-up fool: why should be deride those of an intelligent child? Also, when we are told something in confidence we think ourselves bound in honor never to let it out. By what right do we reveal to the injured party a child ish prank which the child confessed to us alone? If the child is t respect a grown-up, it must feel that its immensely important affair are given a fair hearing, and that its natural desire to explain its conduct will not result in its getting into trouble. The child, in other words, wants equal friendship, and only on those terms will it give its own. We hear much talk of parents who want their children to grow up into their comrades: let them meet the children half-way and he comrades to them.

The Dressmakers Are Putting Wool Lace Upon the Finest of Georgette Crepe to Give It an Appearance of Novelty and the Public Seems to Like the Idea for Midseason Georgette crepe is not dead. It may lack the over-popularity it gained two years ago for chiffon has been put forward by those who quickly tire of the commonplace. This new kind of chiffon is heavy enough to stand the burden of ornamentation, also sufficiently sturdy to stand constant usage in hot weather. It is smooth-surfaced, however, which in this season of rough-surfaced fabrics is somewhat against it for those who seek always to keep within the limitations of prevailing fashions.

The Americans will not give up Georgette crepe without a struggle, and the French devise many new and pleasing gowns in it. The sketch shows one that was put forward for the annual spring races in Paris, where our commissioners go to get styles for the American public. It is loosely built, hanging from the fig-ure in a way that makes for grace. It has the tight armholes and upper sleeves that distinguish the gowns of this season from those that have gone before. The wool lace which is put on it to give it novelty is used to accentuate this movement of to accentuate this movement of sleeves and it is repeated on the pointed tunic, one side of which drops to the floor.

By the way, the wool lace is colored and the crepe is a deep cream.

And another clever touch is a girdle of straw. Copies of this frock are made in several colors, green lace, for instance, against mist gray crepe and French blue lace against mauve crepe. Do you have a dress budget? Do you know just how much mone ou can afford for clothes, and do you sit down and plan in advance just now best to spend it? I don't suppose there is one woman in ten who will answer "yes" to both those quesstions. And yet there can hardly be one woman in ten who will not admit that that is absolutely the best way to get the full value out of one's money and to minimize clothes nistakes es far as possible.

I have a friend who dresses on $200 will say. No, but the remarkable part is that she usually looks better dressed than other friends I have who spend etween $300 and $400.

Yet that $200 really covers every hing except silk stockings and nice ngerie, which she usaully receives as gifts, and now and then such a gift s a fur from her husband.

When I asked her how she went bout it she gave me these details. In the first place she has a budget or the year. At the beginning of the clothes year she goes all over her wardrobe, takes a paper and pencil, tries to visualize herself about her various activities and plans what othes will be needed the most.

Hence, instead of buying some gown he sees in a shop because she thinks it is pretty, whether it's what she really needs or not, or instead of falling in love with a sport outfit that she will have little chance to ear, she really does get the things she needs most.

How She Saves Money. She always manages to keep her beginning of the season, thus saving a great deal by buying at sales. She makes a business of studying the advertisements in her daily paper.

She takes a good fashion magazine and studies fashion tendencies in it so that she will not buy the merely temporary thing.

She tries to have as few clothes as posible, so that she may buy good things. I have actually known her to pay $45 for a plaid skirt. That would seem high on that appropriation, but it was a beauty and, with different year. Not a remarkable feat, the | blouses and sweaters, it served many majority of women, who dress on less, purposes. She has worn it three years and it is still useful and greatly ac mired. Of course, when she makes a large purchase like a coat, she plans that it will last at least three years, and divides the cost in her budget accord-

She keeps to a general color scheme of one or two colors and their shades, because it costs so much more if you have to constantly renew accessories for a change in color. She takes good care of her clothes, always using hangers, shoe trees, et cetera. All these are things which almost any woman could do. But I must, in fairness, admit that one more ingredient goes into her success which not every woman could supply- plenty of time. She is a young, married woman, without children, and can and does spend a good deal of time familiarizing herself with shops and values.

Nevertheless, the very fact that one does not have unlimited time, would seem to make a budget more instead of less important. (Copyright, 1822, for The Constitution)

Clothes are supposed to protect us and also to decorate us. Why shouldn't a woman, then, use cold eream which clearses her skin from the dirt and sacke that civilization has added to the city dwellers' existence, and why shouldn't she use powder which covers up the blemishes that modern artificial existence imparts to her skin.

The only thing she must remember is that these artificial aids to good looks must not show. If they do they defeat their own purpose. By day she should use a powder to match her skin, white or flesh pink if she has fair skin, brunette if she is dark, decided flesh if she is sallow, and the least bit of rouge if her skin is pale enough to need it.

At night she can, if she wishes to give her skin a delicate transparency, use a very little bit of lavender powder. But this is daugerous stuff to play with, only a very little should be used on the skin and most of it should be wiped off with a soft chamois. Miss Womelsdorf Is Bride Of W. H. Lumpkin

Cartersville, Ga., April 21 .- (Spe cial.)-The marriage of Miss Margaretta Womelsdorf and William Henry Lumpkin was a brilliant affair of Thursday evening, taking place in the First Presbyterian church at 8:30 o'clock. The church with its harmonious coloring made a beautiful setting for the decorations of green and white carried out in the arches and festoons of smilax with baskets and vases of snowballs and white peonies; un-shaded white candles added to the ef-fectiveness of the arcsemble.

Prior to the wedding ceremony, an appropriate musical program was rendered by Mrs. Harry Womelsdorf, organist, assisted by Mrs. Sam Candler at the piano and Miss Anna Harwell, of Decetur, on the violin.

See that the curve of the front section "A" is cut to fit the curve of the rocker you made yesterday. The tray is all finished before it is placed in the rocker. Diagram "D" will show to those who did not see yesterday's paper, how the blotter is held at the ends with tin clips. After the button and cord clasp and the ribbon hinges are sewed in place, the inside of the lid is lined with heavy material to form a pin cushion, while the sides of the tray may be lined with pape: by sticking with thin glue. Hinges may be short as shown by "E," or may extend to the front edge of the lid. Figure 2 shows the tray ready to mount into the rocker. The tray should be enameled before decorations are put on. You will find this mighty useful for stamps, pens, caper clips and the other small things that make a desk look untidy where there is no box for them.

WHAT'S WHAT

It is very impolite to open and read letters or telegrams in the presence of others without making some form of excuse. The action is a rude shutting-out of "present company"-a liberate snub even if not so intended. Well-bred men and women always apologize before they open letters handed to them while they are in any group. This rule applies to mail placed on the breakfast or dinner table. Of course, if one is not eager to read the letters immediately, or if for read the letters immediately, or if for any reason, prefers to peruse them when alone, it is quite proper to leave them unopened and unread, and ppt them away for the time being. No one is obliged to open letters at once, but if it is to be done, it should always be prefaced by some sort of apology, such as the conventional "Pardon me." Nor should any one read a newspaper without a similar apology phrase when at table or elsewhere in the company of others.

He passed Captain Lorrimer's saloon. Even in this short interval it had fallen into ill repute after the killing at Alder. And a shanty far-

His eyes left her and wandered around the room, lingering on the face of each, then he backed toward the.

In the back of the house the kitch-whispered Buck. "Let me shoot!"

When Black Dart returned to the cave without Joan, without even a note of answer about his neck, the master made ready to take by force. First he went over his new outfit of saddle and guns, looking to every strap of the former and the latter, revolvers and rifle, he weighed and balanced with a meditative look, as if he were memorizing their qualities.

the doors to the front room were open, and through the doors, he saw the crowd standing motionless. As he glided toward them, he heard the deep voice of a girl speak in reply. It was a wedding.

Then, as the minister spoke again, and shifted his position, he saw that it was Gregg who stood there beside he were memorizing their qualities against a time of need. With Satan saddled and Bart on guard at the mouth of the cave, he gathered up all the accumulation of odds and sate of Grant way. Dan saw the face of Grant way. Dan saw the face of Grant way.

Joan started toward the door, with Bart slinking in front and keeping a watchful lookout from a corner of his eye.

A deep, short report made the master stand away from Satan. The fire had reached a small stock of powder, and the shock of the explosion was stollard the shock of the explosion was his eye.

"Are you going to leave the poor little puppy, Joan?" said the mother, keeping her voice steady.

"I'll take him with me," answered Joan, and caught up the howling puppy from the floor. His wails died out against her breast.

"But you mnstn't do that, honey. He'd die in this cold night wind long before you got there."

"Oh!" sighed Joan, and considered her mother with great eyes. Black Bart turned and uncasily tugged at her dress.

"Will" you take good care of him, ress of the fire; then he leaped through the door, swerved back as an arm of fire shot out at him, ran forward again, caught up the doll and was outside rubbing away the singed portions of rows and lashes.

He did not wait until the house was consumed, but when the flames stood towering above the roof, shaking out to one side with a roar when the wind. one side with a roar when the wind struck them, he mounted Satan once more, and made for the valley.

He wanted to reach Alder at dark, and he guaged the time of his ride so accurately that when he pulled out of the mouth of Murphy's Pass, the last gnal to the two troubled men and ley followed her lead.

"But Daddy Dan'll be lonesome up lere."

"He has Satan and Bart to keen"

"He has Satan and Bart to keen" seen and suspected is the skulker who approaches from covert to covert. They knew he had ridden into Alder before in the middle of the night, and they might suspect the danger of such another attack, but they surely would not have fear of a solitary pedestrian "Bart, what'll Joan do?" queried unless a telltale light were thrown

"Your see," suggested her mother, "Black Bart would eat up the poor litle puppy if you went with him."

At this alarming thought, Joan shrank away from Bart and when he followed her envisored a training thought, because it was aflame with lights, he moved straight to the house at which shrank away from Bart and when he followed her, anxiously, she cried:
"Go away! Bad dog! Bad Bart!"
He caught the edge of her dress and drew back toward the door, and this threw Joan into a sudden panic. She struck Bart across his wrinkled forestood tethered in long double rows, and a noise of voices rolled out and up and down the street. Undoubtedly, there was a festival there, and all Alder would turn out to such an affair. All Alder, including Vic Gregg, the seventh man. A group came down the street for the lighted house; they were laughing and shouting, and they

of each, then he backed toward the en door was open; the room, as far as he could see, was empty. Then very suddenly a wave of silence began and swept. "No, no! Don't even look at him."

"No no! Don't even look at him." Then Bart whirled at the door and was gone like a bolt down the hall.

When Black Dart returned to the Manual of the will and there he understood the meaning of the silence, for both the doors to the front room were and through the doors he heard mouth of the cave, he gathered up all the accumulation of odds and ends, provisions, skins, and made a stirring bonfire in the middle of the gravel floor. It was like burning his bridges before starting out to the battle; he turned his back to the cave and started on his journey.

He had to travel in a loose semi-circle, for there were two points which he must reach on the ride, the town of Alder, where lived the seventh man who must die for Grey Molly, and the Cumberland ranch, last of all, where he would take Loan. Very apply after.

Managing Editor, Atlanta Constitution:

It will interest you to learn that recently while in St. Louis, I was talking with Mr. Ames, Sunday Editor of The Globe-Democrat, about tabloid magazines.

Mr. Ames is a man who has had wide experience in the newspaper magazine field and is well qualified to judge the different magazines.

He made the remark that The Atlanta Constitution is putting out THE BEST TABLOID MAGAZINE IN THE COUNTRY.

Regular inspection of the Constitution's Magazine and those of the other great papers of the country leads me to agree he artily with him in this opinion.

Tech High Track Team to Battle For Southern Title at Auburn

Fine Field Entered for MERCER WINS Second Annual Meet, Which Will Get Under Way Today.

BY EMMETT SIZEMORE. Auburn, Ala., April 21.—(Special.)
Quite a lot of interest is in evidence here in the approaching second annual interscholastic track meet to be held in Auburn beginning Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.
Sixteen teams with day afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Sixteen teams with more than a hundred entries have already filed their entry credentials with Coach Wilbur Hutsell. With this field of competition in a long string of events the meet this year promises to eclipse the big success of the initial meet last season.

Of the sixteen entries already bookof the sixteen entries already book-ed, five are from the Birminkham district which include Ensley, Wood-lawn, Simpson, Bessemer and Cen-tral, while Georgia will be represent-ed by two of her strongest teams, La Grange and Tech Hi, north Alabama will have an opportunity to compete with the southern portion of the state. when Lauderdale County High and Albany goes on the field against Cit-ronelle, which is expected to make ronelle, which a good showing.

List of Entries.

A roster of the entries so far include Lauderdale County High, Cenclude Lauderdale County High, Cenclude Lauderdale, Woodlawn, Simpson,

LaGrange, Tech cinde Latinerado, Woodlawn, Simpson, tral, Ensley, Woodlawn, Simpson, Bessemer, Albany, LaGrange, Tech Hi, Camp Hill, Citronelle, Alexander City, Chambers High, Pittsview, Lee County High and Dadeville. Judging from the early season per-formances the records of last season

'Rosy" Smith, of Tech Hi, has gained quite a reputation in the high jump, having been able to clear the bar at 5 feet and 11 inches while Byrd, his team mate, won over a field of contenders in a 600-yard run in Baltimore, during the indoor sea-

Streit, of Simpson, holder of the state championship in the 100, 220 and 440 events, will come to Auburn with his team to defend his previous gation among which are Hassler, state titleholder in the low hurdles and Spring, who promises to make it rugged sailing for those competing in the high jump.

Tigers 4 to 3.

Allie Thompson of Mercer, sensational southpaw produced by the south Georgia city of Eastman, and Grant, 18-year-old right hander of the invading Tigers, engaged in as brilliant a slab duel as has been seen here in years. Faulty support behind both hurlers kept them pitching in top form from beginning to end.

With the score 3 to 1 in Auburn's favor in the last half of the ninth spasm Poore on second and one man out, "Tige" Stone, Mercer's captain and all-southern pitcher for two years, was sent in to pinch hit for Clay Ryals. Says Tammany Methods Being Used in Dealing With A. A. U. Opponents

Fullerton Believes Amateur Athletics Should Not Be Controlled Wholly by One Organization.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

The present crisis in athletic affairs in the United States appears to be a direct result of the attempt made last fall to form a real association of all the athletic and sport controlling organizations of America.

November 25, 1921, at which a prearranged constitution, practically granting the Amateur Athletic union perpetual control of all athletic sports, of all Olympic sports, and of all the athletes in the United States was forced over the protest of the army and navy, the colleges and other great organizations.

The A. A. U. has had control of sports and competitive athletics for practically thirty years. It has had and retains control of all Olympic matters. Its failure and the rebellion of athletes was a result of the mismanagement and the trouble arising out of the Antwerp Olympic games, and the belief of the majority of those interested in athletics that the American Olympic committee (a body which was controlled by the A. A. U.) should not have perpetual control of America's Olympic activities.

A. A. U. ALWAYS

Morris worked a beautiful same for the Petrels and after the third, when Virginia linked two hits and a squeeze for two runs, was never in danger. Triples by Bryant, Morris and Simpson featured the game for Oglethorpe.

Ed Allen was the stellar performer for the freshmen, having scored two runs and working in the field in great style. Argo, the freshman captain, between the field, but showed some weakness with the timbers.

For the visitors Grady Dunn did great work, having a couple of two-like third, when Virginia linked two hits and a single marked up to hits and a single marked up to hit credit in three trips to the plate. Bottoms and Hughes, the catcher and pitcher for the Aggies, were able to ratized. The A. A. U. was one of the leading cheer leaders in this movement. A lot of other organizations agreed to attend such a convention—coming in good faith.

Two months or more before the date its athletic department was at its highest development, was approached by the United States overnment with the suggestion that it assume control of athletics in the United States. It declined, stating that it was not the function of the Y to control sports, and that it did not believe any organization should control others.

Yet it was charged by the A. A. U. that the Y was trying to smash it and assume control, and that the Y had in-

Most of our courses are trapped for the man player. The scratch player at that. Simply to devote all money and all energy to getting championship courses making them over-difficult is not going to give satisfaction to the rank file of players and is not going to develop the game as it should.

Hefore the meeting started Colonel Johnson, representing the army, was rebuked by A. A. U. members and accused of trying to break up the A. A. U. The idea was new to the army and navy people—and to others, who had come expecting in good faith that an attempt was to be made to create a truly democratic American Amateur Federation.

And now it is the memorial scholarships that are going to come in for discussion at the various college purity conferences. It is a fact that there has been a fault here more or less glossed over for many years. Federation.

The forces backing the old Olympic committee (A. A. U. controlled) presented their constitution, allotted membership descreetly, so as to retain safe control, and insisted upon forming what is called the American Olympic association—of which more later. The cry was raised that the colleges, whick insisted upon ruling and governing their own athletes, the army, the navy, and the Y. M. C. A. especially not be a special to the committee (A. A. The Republic of Colombia has a permit an outside body to run their members, were taking all control of members, were taking all control of all organizations from them. As a matter of fact, it is difficult to see how any such idea could be read into the proposition of the secretary of war —which was that every sport and athletic controlling body should retain full control of its own organization and join the federation merely as a member seeking the best interests of all sports and athletics.

Yet the A. A. U. delegates insisted that this was the "plot."

WHICH IS RIGHT IDEA?

The great fundamental difference arose over one idea, which to me was the finest and most constructive advanced in American athletics in my the control of the players on the legion team led them to state after the game was finished that very likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and last appearance in the local amaly last every likely this was their first and las the finest and most constructive advanced in American athletics in my time. That idea was this: That the federation should hold every constituent body responsible for the purity in amateurism of its representatives; that each organization that entered any athletic in any event should certify to his standing, and that in event of crooked work the organization be held responsible as well as the in dividual and his club.

Such a rule, which has been tried out in the Far Eastern A. A., has worked wonders. Such a rule would, in my opinion, reduce professionalism to a minimum if not drive it entirely out of athletic competion.

The failure of associations to hold clubs responsible and punish them, and of clubs to hold coaches responsible, as well as the offending athlete, is the chief cause of professionalism in amateur sport. in amateur sport.

The object of the formation of this

The object of the formation of this "American Olympic association," as per preliminary announcements, was to democratize the Olympic committee and do away with perpetual control of that committee by the A. A. U. No one cognizant of the history of the A. A. U. and the Olympic committee ought to have seriously thought that its powers would be surrendered in that manner.

See what happened: A hand plucked membership was arranged, a constitution was carefully drawn. Sufficient provision was made for the working majority. The opposition (if it may be so called) was not expecting political maneuvers. If it had been a wise crowd it would have organized the Pinochle association, the Tiddle de Winks league, the Horse Shoe Pitchers and the Croquet Experts—demanded representation and a vote. The A. A. U. experts in politics had their votes ready and prepared. They rode roughshod over the "opposition," slipped over their constitution, kicked the secretary of war downstairs, and formed, instead of an amateur federation, the American Olympic association, Army, navy, the colleges and the Y. Georgia counted in the second. Thomason lived on an error at short, and "Old-Timer" Eldridge trotted home on a smash over third base for a pair of sacks. In the third Jack Frost singled to right and took second on Cody's hit to left. Josh Watson pushed both runners up a base with a neat sacrifice, and Frost scored on Clark's single. Cody later counted on Thomason's hit to second. This concluded Georgia's run making until the ninth.

Tech-Sewanee Track Meet At Grant Field Today at 2:30

BY JOHN STATON.

Tech meets Sewanee this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the first track meet of the season on home soil. From all indications it is going to be a repetition of last year's affair, which Sewanee won by a narrow margin of 5 points, a first place in the mile relay. But Tech is hoping that the similarity goes as far as the closeness of the contest is concerned, and then stops. For Tech wants to annex this meet. Since the Mississippi disaster, the whole thought of the team has been this meeting this afternoon. The fellows have trained harder, they have put the old stuff into it a little bit more, and they are better conditioned for the meet. There's not a man on the Tech team out on account of injuries, and only one on account of studies. So if we win or if we lose there will be no comeback.

Coach Alex had the student body dragging yesterday afternoon getting the field in shape. Tech has a fair track, but it must be continually rolled if it is to stay fast. The jumping pits were packed, and the fairway lines on the sprint paths got a fresh coat of lime. It has been some time since Tech got off a fast meet at home, but the one this afternoon is going to show the people the ambition of Tech show the people the ambition of Tech at 2:30 o'clock in the first track meet

TECH BEATEN BY THE VOLS

Knoxville, Tenn., April 21.—(Special.)—Sustained hitting by the University of Tennessee sluggers gave the Vols a 7 to 4 victory over Georgia Tech at Shields-Watkins field here today in the first of the two-game series. Darkness halted the clash in the half of the fifth inning with two Tennessee runners on the bags and none down. The Yellow Jackets arrived in Knoxville more than three hours late, and play-ball was not sounded until almost 5 o'clock. Consecutive hits by Griffin, Barron, Ingram and Edwards in the first gave the visitors two runs. After Morgan had flied out, Griffin singled down the third base line. Barron's roller hit third base line. Barron's roller hit Griffin between the bases, the runner being retired and Barron being safe. Barron promptly stole second and scored on Ingram's hit to center, Ingram going to second on the throwin. Edwards score Ingram with a hot single, but was caught between first and second.

show the people the ambition to win.

The east is way ahead of the south in the point of track work, because they have had it up there much longer, but the south is coming, and oming fast. It won't be so many years until we will be having big intersection track meets just as in football and baseball.

The pole vaulting this year will certainly be worth watching. Longino Welch is tied with an L. S. U. man for southern record. In the Sewanee Centre meet, Minor, a Sewanee lad, did 11 feet without being pushed. He never missed a single time. No one has been able to make Minor extend himself so far, but you can put it down that Longino will and then some.

The hurdle races will be something else, too, unless someone breaks a leg. Fred Moore and T. Rather have been in the trials, but

Tank or relieved Collias at the Lines, who relieved Collias at the Lines, which had became to the wat going over them in the trials, but watch Coughlin.

Another great event is the javelin. "Caliope" Whelchel has been doing about 173 lately, but it is rumored that Sewanee has a man who can do 175.

Anderson is Tech's best chance in the dashes. The time against Centre was 10-1-5 in the hundred. Anderson has done it in the same time. Anderson has unlimited power, and if he cuts it loose he will do the century in 10 flat. When he runs his strides are fine and he has a wonderful chance to develop into a great sprinter.

As far as dope is concerned, there does not seem to be a single event sowed up by either side. However, Tech ought to win first and possibly second in the high jump with comparative case. Brewster, Welch and Williams can do well above 5, and that height won the meet against Centre.

The following is something like the way that the Tech contestants will center: Anderson and Sessions in the 100 Anderson and Metalish the test. Three selections by the Yellow Jacket Four, the quartet of the Georgia Tech Glee club, and a short address by Captain Richard J. Broyles, who is actively participating in Atlanta's city-wide revival campaign, featured the 6 o'clock broadcast of WGM last

The program was opened at 6 o'clock by Captain Broyles with his address on the subject: "In the Beginning, God." Three numbers were given by the Georgia Tech quartet, which is composed of Bill Kinney, first tenor; Dexter Jordan, second tenor; Charlie Lyons, baritone, and Russell Stokes, Captain Broyles' Address.

In his address, Captain Broyles spoke in part as follows:

"In the first verse of the first chapter of the first book of the Bible you will find this impressive phrase:
"In the beginning God." What does such a phrase mean to you? What is your conception of God? Just what does He mean to you in your home, in your business, in your church, in your politics, in your friendships, in your hopes for future years? It is necessary for you to answer this question before we can proceed effectively.

"A man's conception of God is a sure indication of his general character. A man who is ignorant of God, or who thinks of Him in a narrow, unbelieving way, may do certain good deeds, and may say certain wise things, but, taking him all in all, he is necessarily faulty and corrupt. He is possessed by selfish and unworthy whims. He is neither a good friend nor a wise counsellor. If he is as indifferent to God as an animal, then he must be just so much less a man, and subject to the massions and greed. he must be just so much less a man, and subject to the passions and greed and subject to the passions and a continuous of an animal.

"How fascinating is God! How we marvel at His activities! Nature can not prove God, yet we are aware of Him. All peoples have hungered for and sought after Him, often crudely and pathetically. FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY TWO ADDRESSES

BY EDWARD N. DAVIS Formerly Technical Electrical Expert for United States Government

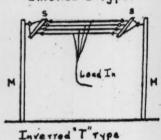

Lesson No. 23 THE AERIAL

The important feature of the aerial, or antenna, is its ability to serve the double purpose of radiating or receiving electromagnetic waves. For purposes of transmission it radiates, in the form of eleclows Talk by Captain tromagnetic waves, the energy contained in the oscillations of the open or antenna circuit. When used for receiving purposes it intercepts the electromagnetic waves radiated from a more or less distant transmit-ting station and conveys a portion of the energy contained in these waves to the sensitive receiving apparatus where it is converted into audible signals.

There are various types of aerials in general use, namely the in verted L type, the T type, the vertical fan, the loop and the umbrella type. Of these types the inverted L type and the T type are very extensively used. Both these types are flat top aerials and consist of two or more parallel wires stretched horizontally between spreaders which are in turn supported by masts or by attachment to a high projection. These two types are shown in simple form in the following dia-

The masts (M) and (M) support the spreader (S) and S) and between these spreaders the wires are stretchhorizontally with insulators inserted as shown. The essential dif-ference in mechanical construction ference in mechanical construction between the inverted L and the T types is that, in the former the "lead in" or vertical wires are connected to one end of the flat top, whereas in the latter the "lead in" is connected to to center. It is very important for a transmitting aerial to be thoroughly insulated in order to efficiently radiate the energy of the high voltage oscillations. In marine installations the flat top aerials are usually of four wires, spaced approximately M types is that, in the former the "lead of four wires, spaced approximately $2\frac{1}{2}$ feet to $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet apart, each wire being from 75 to 200 feet in length. The "lead in" wires have a combined cross-sectional area equal to the total cross-sectional area of the horizontal wires and enter the station through an insulator for connection to the transmitting and receiving apparatus. The aerial wires are usually of stranded phosphor bronze, copper or aluminun The aerial has a natural wave length due to the fact it possesses inductance and capacity in distributed form and the amount of this inductance and capacity depends principally upon its dimensions. An increase in the length of the aerial causes an increase in the inductance and capacity and consequently an increase in the length of the radiated wave.

For use in receiving stations only, the insulation of the aerial is not as important as it does not have to withstand the high transmit ting voltage. For receiving radiophone messages a single wire approximately 100 feet long supported high in the air and suitably insulated practice in radio telegraph to use a 'send-receive' switch, so that the antenna may be connected to the transmitter or to the receiver depending on which one is to be used. At the end of each transmitted message the operator always makes a conventional signal to indicate to the receiving operator that each must throw the send-receive switch to its opposite position, this signal, according to international practice, being the letter K. However, much confusion was caused and it was often the case where the operators at either end would say the same time, then throw hards a speak' and would finally start in the send-receive' switch to its opposite position, this signal, according to international practice, being the letter K. However, much confusion was no time just then for developing such a system. Instead of the conventional signal 'K,' after an operator had finished speaking, be told his distant co-operator to 'come in' or 'come back,' some saying 'over' or 'shift' instead. Obviously this led to confusion. Perhaps lo 'all interference would blot out these last words. Perhaps the distant station would delay hack' and would finally start.

Plainly, it is a spiritual thing, and its information is of the spiritual. Must we not then agree with the Gospel of John which tells us that God is spirit? Yes, God is spirit, superior to and independent of His world of matter—these finite conceptions of time and space. He is a spiritual 'all and in all,' brooding over the face of the deep, touching men's hearts with a divine love, quickening the flowers into new life in the springtime, and working out a vast program of redemption.

South's Farmers LARGE UPTURN Are Encouraged BY WGM TONIGHT Over Outlook

The farmers of north Mississippi have adopted this idea along with the others of using more liberal amounts of fertilizer, carly registry of cotton and planting early varieties of cotton and planting early and the success that they are having despite the weevil causes me to believe that this is one of the valuable methods of fighting the weevil.

Gradual Recovery "Of course a number are using the poison calcium arsenate dust, and where the potential yield of land is around three-fourths of a bale per acre, they are having results. But even with the calcium arsenate, these other good methods should also be followed.

"I was agreeably surprised to find the farmers and business men as a whole much more hopeful about conditions than they were last year. Indications are that things are on the upgrade in that section, and that there is now a gradual returning to normal conditions."

IN WHEAT PRICES

Chicago, April 21.—Active general buying based more or less on higher quotations at Liverpool and on hopeful reports from the Genoa economic conference led to a big upturn to day in wheat prices here. Reactions, however, followed. The close was unsettled, at 1-2 to 2 5-8c net gain, with May $1.45 1-2 to $1.45 5-8 and July $1.27 1-8 to $1.27 1-4. Corn finished 1-8 to 1-4c off to a like advance. BANKERS INSPECT BIG APPLE BELT IN OLD VIRGINIA

Winchester, Va., April 21.—Bankers from Virginia cities. Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York inspected the commercial apple belt of Virginia today, viewing a million trees in bloom. The bankers have been holding conferences with growers who have asked that they be given the have asked that they be given the same credit consideration, according agriculturists. Oliver J. Sands, of Richmond, president of the American Bankers' Association, heads the party. Frost visited the low places in the district last night but government agents here said the damage was slight. A light snow was, reported from the Shenandoah-Cumberland districts.

COCA-COLA COMMON ADVANCES TO NEW HIGH RECORD

Market's Orderly Manner Pleases Conservative Bullish Street Element

Constitution's New York Financial Correspondent. New York, April 21.—With the closing hour of the stock exchange witnessing the most active trading of Friday, Coca-Cola common held the center of a large builk of transactions as it soared to a new high record of 56%—a net gain of 1% points over the previous high, which was registered Wednesday. Continued improvement in the company's business, as shown by increased earnings and demand for the product, and expectations of a larger dividend later this year were considered the main factors in the stock's drive for higher levels.

The market acted in a more orderly manner today. Trading continued above the million-share mark and prices were again higher, and while the gains were substantial, no wild fluctuations were witnessed. new high records for the year were established, however. bond market also continued active and strong. The manner in which the market is now moving is pleasing to the conservative bullish element in the street. The traders are of the opinion that the wild speculation in the oil stocks during the closing days of last week had as much to do with the reaction witnessed on Monday and Tuesday as any other influence.

The annual report of the Pacific Oil company for the year 1921, according to figures published here show a surplus of $16,261,292 after all charges for taxes and reserve for depletion and depreciation. This statement accounts for much of the recent advance in the stock.

Steel Bond Issues.

An item of interest in the news developments of the day is the new bond issues of $10,000,000 announced by two subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation, which is be lieved to be the first financing under-taken by any of the steel corpora-tion's subsidiaries in five to ten years or more.

The proceeds, according to report, will be used for the construction of new mills. The plant to be built immediately will cost $15,000,000, part of which will be financed out of cash surplus and part out of the bond issue. It will be erected by the National Tube company and will have a capacity of 350,000 tons annually, thus adding between 20 and 25 percent to the corporation's tube capacity.

a capacity of 250,000 tons annually, thus adding between 20 and 25 per cent to the corporation's tube capacity.

The American Telephone and Telegraph, which not so long ago bought an interest in the Radio Corporation of America, has disposed of its holdings, according to an official of the company. The disposal was due to the company's desire to confine investment in associated companies in the Bell system.

The Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation is preparing to construct additional oil tanks at its refinery on the Houston ship canal in order to take care of oil expected from the government in Wyoming, known as the Teapot Dome development, the letting of which is causing many protests from various sections of the country.

More Gold.

The Mauretania arrived today with $2,006,000 gold for local bankers. This is the first shipment of gold received from England in several weeks.
The Texas Gulf Sulphur company reports net earnings of $805,095 for the first quarter paid $635,000 in dividends, leaving a surplus of $5,779, 429, including reserves for depletion. The company reserves for depletion. The company in the first quarter paid $635,000 in dividends, leaving a surplus of $5,779, 429, including reserves for depletion. The company in the first quarter paid $635,000 in dividends, leaving a surplus of $5,779, 429, including reserves for depletion. Directors are expected to meet soon to tabe action on quarterly dividend, but no change in rates is expected.

Statements made in the street trade declare that were it not for the coalstrike the industry would be operating at about 80 per cent of capacity, Present operations are between 70 and 75 per cent. The strike has more retarded expansion rather than causing mills to suspend, as had at first pear with the first cart with the first cart than capacity and the pearly strike the industry would be operating at about 80 per cent of capacity, Present operations are between 70 and 75 per cent. Call Money.

Call money continues to be quoted at 31-2 per cent, and is plentiful at this rate. Time money is also obtainable in fair amounts at 31-4 per cent. Some small loans for short periods are reported to have been placed at 4 per cent. Loans for six months are quoted at 41-2 per cent. Liberty bonds loans are 4 per cent. Liberty bonds loans are 4 per cent.

Numerous rumors have been heard in Wall street since the first of the year regarding declaration of an extra dividend by Studebaker directors. Various amounts have been named, but uncertainty existed as to whether the extra dividend would be declared at the meeting to be held next week or whether it would be postponed until the following meeting. Today reports were spread through the district that the directors would declare an extra declaration of this yeaf's peach crop.

Ignore Rates.

The stock market during the morning virtually ignored the lower federal reserve ratio. This was due to the fact that call money continues in abundant supply.

American Writing Paper company for 1921 reports a deficit of $1,944.775, after all charges and taxes, as against profits of $1,687,673, equal to $13.50 a share on the preferred stock in 1920. A pool was formed recently in the preferred stock, but activity was curtailed pending publication of the above statement. The writing paper industry has shown more improvement since January 1 than has the newsprint industry.

New York, April 21.—Public issues were the foremost feature of today's active and broad bond market, replacing in interest government offerings and popular rails. New York, Westchester and Boston 4½s rose over 4 points. Hudson and Manhat tan 5s advanced 3½ and the refunding 5s 1½ points. Local tractions also improved, notably Interborough and Third Avenue issues.

New York Central, Pennsylvania, Reading, New Haven, Rock Island, Southern Pacific, Central Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and St. Louis and San Francisco issues were included among the rails whose issues gained from large fractions to 1½ points.

Liberties were inclined to case and the prominent international war flotations were irregular, but Moxican 4s and 5s, and French American 7½s and Berne 8s strengthened

Upward Trend in Liberty Issues Indicates Great Recovery in Business

BY CLAYTON WHITEHILL

United News Staff Correspondent Washington, April 21.—The steady upward trend in the prices of Liberty bonds during the past six months, in the opinion of high treasury officials, is an indication of substantial business recovery.

Specifically, according to Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation, it is "a reflection of easier money."

"In preiods of depression following crises," said Meyer, "money tends to flow into the safest form of security. And Liberty bonds are the safest security in the world.

"The once despised four-and-a-quarter per cent is now very

This gain, officials pointed out, represents rather a rise in the business barometer than a direct factor in business improvement. It represents the combined efforts of the government and individual corporations to take up the slack in the investment market.

The government's contribution is increased retirement of Liberty bonds to build up the accumulated sinking fund.

However, the 18,600,288 purchasers of fifty-dollar bonds in the four Liberty loans and the Victory loan, are for the most part thought to be keeping their bonds until maturity. And those individual sub-scribers who were forced to sell their bonds when the market was low are not re-purchasing now to any appreciable extent.

points in the last six months, and this increase would mean a profit of some $180,000,000 for bond holders. But this profit has been reaped largely by banks, and in a few instances by holders of big blocks of Liberties. The bond-buyer who subscribed at larities, yet with unmistakable clearthe theater or through other popular wartime means has tucked his $50 or $100 bond in the safe. He has even forgotten to cash in his coupons, treasury experts have discovered in checking over coupon receipts.

This, it was said, is illustrative of the public attitude toward the war loans. For a majority of the people they were an adventure in invest-ment, and as such have been "put

DUN'S ASSERTS IMPROVEMENT CONTINUES. BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, April 21 .- Dun's tomore v will say:

"Gains that have occurred in recent months are not extending in equal measure to all lines of enterprise have been such as to give encouragement, instances are becoming more common Confined to Banks.

Therefore, whatever trading in bonds has taken place, it was said has been confined to banks. Business men, aparently viewing the loans from the standpoint of the small investor, have thrown few bonds on the market unless obliged to do so.

Instead of being an active part of the bond business, experts declared, the Liberty bond market has been an isolated activity wherein the law of supply and demand has operated almost independently of industrial or stock market ups and downs.

When there were plenty of bonds on the market the government went in and bought large quantities for its sinking fund. Federal reserve banks or member banks, desirous of increasing their security, also bought. Of the $24.072.111,400 subscribed to the four Liberty loans and the Victory loan, $18.472.821.600 was out-

Grain Exports.

Washington, April 21.—American exports of grain during March increased by $10,000,000 as compared with February but fell off by approximately $16,000,000 as compared with March a year ago, according to foreign trade reports made public today by the commerce department.

During March grain exports aggregated $42,000,000 as compared with $32,000,000 in February and with $58,000,000 in March a year ago.

For the nine months ended with March grain exports aggregated $470,000,000 as compared with $85,000,000 during the corresponding months of 1921. Exports of wheat during the month aggregated 7,845,000 bushels valued at $10,000,000 against 14,600,000 bushels worth $28,000,000 im March a year ago. Corn exports for the month aggregated 22,668,000 bushels worth $16,000,000 against 13,371,000 bushels worth $16,000,000 against 13,371,000 bushels valued at $12,000,000 im March, 1921.

In the late trading yesterday the market looked rather tired.
Volumes of sales still around the million and an half mark, but the list lacked conviction. One yery important feature, however, which has been perhap the biggest factor of strength, still exercises a potent influence, and that is the continued supply of relatively cheap money and the good demand for investment and semi-investment securities, both stocks and bonds.

Buying some of the medium priced ralls which may possibly enter the dividend-paying classes by the year is out, is not 'fly-by-night' buying, but is the buying which takes the stock practically out of market to be held for eventual appreciation. Baltimore & Ohio is an instance. There are issues whose prospects have so far been hidden by the more spectacular speculative stocks. Yesterday 10 per cent of the M. M. O. "A" stock was turned over. Judging from reports of earnings, purchasers are evidently buying with the idea that the earning power of the company can take care of the 8-per cent dividend to which the shares are entitled.

Both P. W. and P. Q. are behind the market, and they can be bought.

We remain bullish on such tobacco stocks as R. J. R. "B" which made a new high for the year yesterday.

New York, April 21.—(Special.)—Our market opened up higher on better Liverpool cables. News that the wage differences in Manchester mills was settled was encouraging, but early in the forenoon the report was refuted. There was some selling attributed to Japanese interests, while most of the buying was attributed to wire and spot houses. Cotton goods were reported strong with more business doing in New England and the local markets sales at Fall River were estimated at 250,000 pieces at prices ranging from ½ to ½ cent higher. Spinners takings were considered bullish, showing an increase of approximately 5,500 bales ahead of last year. The market advanced later in the afternoon on predictions of inclement weather in the western belt over Sunday. We anticipate an advancing market. The exchange will be closed on account of moving to temporary quarters.

Early Meeting in May to Plan Conservation of Results of Revival.

The following is issued by the committee on church co-operation:

For more than six hours, this past Tuesday, ever increasing numbers of works of the Protestant churches in Atlanta listened to Sherwood Eddy at the First Baptist church. The meeting of church leaders as the climax of the most remarkable revival in the church, and thousands of those already members have reconsecrated their lives to service.

Evangeism for the nations, evangelism as a cure for industrial and racial strife, and evangelism and the social gospel, were the heads under which Mr. Eddy appealed to the churches not to miss the opportunity before them.

"Materialism and selfishness are over 6,000 men, Mr. Eddy said, had decided that every laborer is entitled to first, a living wage; second, fair hours of they work, third, security against unemployment; fourth, a voce in the control of the plant, fifth, a fair share being given in Mr. Rountree's plant. On the one side, pleading through Christ as a cure for these conditions, Mr. Eddy sees: (1) Personality, recognition of the worth of the individual man, woman or child; (2) brotherhood for all; (3) service to all; (4) liberty for all; (5) equal justice to all; (6) love for all. Battling against these six calls of Christ, Mr. Eddy sees: (1) Possessions, greed placing material gain above the worth of aman; (2) strife, to get and keep, regardless of cost to others; (3) profits, counted more than the welfare of man; (4) repression, keeping the other fellow down and "in his place;" (5) injustice, trampling and denying the right of others for the sake of profits or place; (6) selfshnes, denying the law of love, the Golden Rule, and living only for self.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Constitution Bureau Raleigh Hotel Washington, April 21.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)-The senate claims committee today agreed to report favorably to the senate three bills for relief introduced by Senator Harris. Two of the bills, each for $5,000 as an award for damages for Mrs. Ethel Williams, 22 Edgewood avenue, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Janie Beasley Glisson, of Savannah, Ga.. Beasley Glisson, of Sav were reported favorably Thomas E. Watson, who is a member of the committee.

The third bill would appropriate $49.901 to pay damages to persons sluffering by reason of proceedings for the condemnation of land for Fort Benning, Ga., in 1918. The amount was recommended by the secretary of war and no changes were permitted by the committee.

In the claim of Mrs. Williams she sought damages for injuries from an army motor cycle at Camp Gordon, Ga., on May 2, 1920. Mrs. Glisson was injured by a government aeroplane from Souther Field, Americus, Ga., while giving an exhibition flight at Bellville, Ga., on January 11, 1919.

METHODIST REVIVAL STILL IN PROGRESS

Evangelistic services which began in number of Atlanta Methodist hurches Easter Sunday, are progressing splendidly, according to reports received by leaders in the movement at Wesley Memorial church Friday. At the English avenue Methodist church, Rev. M. L. Underwood, pastor, and Rev. Jack Pierce, of the Dun-and Rev. Jack Pierce, of the Point woody circuit, are preaching to large congrgations.

Trinity Methodist church will hold no services Saturday but will observe three servicees.

The Rev. Harry S. Allen, pastor of the East Point Methodist church, assisted by Rev. C. A. Norton, is enjoying success in the revival services which started last Sunday. Mackay sisters, of Virginia, are in charge of the music. Three services will be held Sunday, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon special services will be held for the "old folks."

The meeting was attended by A. The meetings will be held at regular intervals at which reports section. Other meetings will be held at regular intervals at which reports section. Other meetings will be held at regular intervals at which reports the improvement plans.

U. S. SENATE AWARDS PETERS STREET MEET $5,000 TO ATLANTAN PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

Plans for making extensive improvements along Peters street in anticipation of the crection of the Spring street viaduct were formed at a meeting of the Peters Street Improvement association held Friday afternoon at the office of the West Lumber com-pany. George W. West was elected chairman of the association and Cone

Maddox was elected secretary.

Speeches were made by Councilman S. A. Wardlaw, J. R. Smith, George West and others, in which it was sointed out that Peters street will form the basis of town route from College Park to the heart of the city after the completion of the Spring street viaduct. It w shown that this route will be the only one that runs from the West End section into the city which does not have a grade crossing on it. Plans for widening Peters street from Walker street west for three or four blocks will be worked out by a special committee of twelve men. This committee will appear before council to obtain passage of ordinances needed to change a few grades and to pre pare for general improvement of the street.

Mr. West exhibited maps showing the large amount of additional traf-fic and business which will be taken the building of the new viaduct. He also discussed improvements to be made in the approaches to the pres-ent Peters street viaduct.

WHEN YOU BORROW MONEY

Would it not be safer and more satisfactory to deal with people who are firmly established and who can meet your requirements now and when your loan matures, without the delays and uncertainties which attend the negotiations of those who do not know when or where they can get your money for you? We have been engaged exclusively in the mortgage loan business under the same management for more than thirty years, representing Eastern capital and can meet your needs promptly at lowest current rates.

If you should be in the market for funds now or at a

The regular communication of Bolton Lodge, No. 446. F. & A. M., will be held this Saturday. April 22d, beginning at 8 p. m., at the Masonic Temple, Bolton, Ga. The Fellowcraft Pegree will be conferred. On meet with us. By order W. W. M. GRIFF, W. M. W. J. WOOD, Secretary. Funeral Notices

Lodge Notices

By order of HABRY YORK, W. M. J. G. BENTON, Secretary.

This is near Bonaventure Ave., on the north side of the street; and in this block the lots run back to a considerable depth with an unimproved 40-foot street in the rear. At the present time this unimproved street furnishes an outlet for the rear, but in the course of time it will be improved and become a site for other dwellings.

Here we are offering a brick bungalow with 7 rooms and bath at a very attractive price. This house is new and has been occupied only a short time by the present owner. It was designed and built for a permanent home; it is an individual style of house, showing evidence of careful planning and good building.

We can sell this house for $13,500, but must have a substantial first payment; business reasons only would cause this place to be put on the market. It is offered for sale, not merely to get rid of it, but for the purpose of raising some money. This is an occasion where cash cuts quite a figure. NEALY—'The friends of Martha Mae. Nealy, Mrs. Minnie Nealy, and Mrs. M. 'E. Jarrell are invited to attend the funeral serv-ices of Martha Mae Nealy this (Sat-urday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes Co. Rev. T. T. Davis will officiate. In-terment in West View.

HONEA—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Honea are invited to attend the funeral of their little son, Ralph Honea, this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the residence, 151 Bedford St. Rev. J. W. Watkins will officiate. The remains will be carried to Holly Springs at 7:10-o'clock Sunday morning for interment. Awtry & Lowndes Co., funeral directors.

MORAN—Mary Frances, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Moran, died Friday afternoon at the home, 1032 Highland avenue. Besides her parents she is survived by a sister, Elaine Moran. Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment at West View. Barclay & Brandon Co., morticians, P. J. Bloomfield in charge.
